He Had Squandered Church and Trus Funds-Leaves His Creditors in the Lurch-Reward for His Arrest.

[Special telegram to the Dispatch.] TASLEY, VA., December S .- The people of Cape Charles City, in Northampto ty, are greatly agitated over the absconding of Thomas Nelson, Mayor of that city and master mechanic and chief clerk of the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk railroad. Nelson came to Cape Charles about three years ago from Jersey City. where he had been employed as a clerk in the Pennsylvania railroad office, and where, it is learned, he had led rather a fast life. ELECTED MAYOR.

His fine address and polished manners made him popular with the people, and so won their confidence that they soon elected him Mayor of the town. He became a member of all the benevolent and beneficiary orders of the place and was elected a vestryman of the Cape Charles Episcopal church. Shortly after coming to Cape Charles he married a Miss Coxe, of Philadelphia, a very estimable young lady. EXPENSIVE LIVING.

Some months ago his expensive style of hving began to create suspicion in the minds of those who were closely associated with him, and those suspicions were strengthened when his wife left him about three weeks ago and went to live with her parents, in Philadelphia, and he adververtised his household furniture for sale. The sale took place last week, but Nelson was absent at the time, being, it is supposed, either in Baltimore or Philadelphia. NOT SINCE HEARD OF.

NOT SINCE HEARD OF.

He returned a few days after the sale of his property, collected the money due him. left on the Norlolk steamer, and has not been heard from since. The ladies of the Cape Charles Episcopal church had raised by fairs and contributions $1,200 to build a church and had placed this money in Nelson's hands. He held, moreover, trust funds belonging to the estate of Mrs. McFadden, who was mardered in Cape Charles about one year ago, amounting to about $1,500, and he owes bills in Cape Charles to the amount of $500. NEARLY ALL SPENT.

It is supposed that he has spent nearly all this money and that he had only $100 or $200 when he left. It is not known where he has gone, but efforts are being made to have him arrested and brought to HIS DESCRIPTION.

Melson is a native of Hanover county, and belongs to the distinguished family of that name. He is about 5 test 8 inches tall, about 35 years old, and has a ruddy complexion, wavy, dark-brown hair, and a long moustache. He has a nervous manner and an abrupt and jerky style of speech. The authorities have sent his photograph in every direction and offered a reward for

THE MINE FIRE EXTINGUISHED. Good Work of the Fire-Engine Company-Damages Not Estimated.

Damages Not Estimated.

[Special telegram to the Dispatch.]

Salem, Va. December 30.—Lee Brand, a director of the Algoma Coal-Mine Company, returned late Thursday night from the mines and reported the fire extinguished at 5 o'clock on Thursday morning. The special train with the Roanoke fire engine and company arrived at Algoma at 6:30 Wednesday night, but owing to the intense cold there it was 11 o'clock before the engine was pumping water from the creek dam, eighty-five feet below, into the burning mine, which had been unsealed to admit the hose.

mine, which had been unsealed to admit the hose.

Jones, who was the mine boss in the great Pocahontas explosion, aided Chief Kneip and the Vigilant Fire Company greatly, and it was mainly owing to his presence of mind at the outbreak of the fire that no lives were lost. The fire start-ed from an unknown cause in the tool-room and burned for thirty hours. The damages cannot be estimated until the mine is cleared, but are slight as compared with what they might have been had not the Roanoke fire-engine gone to the rescue.

Scottsville, December 30.—For several days we have been looking for an ice-gorge here in the James, but so far the ice continues to move. Our friends across the river in Buckingham are cut off from communication with us very effectually. The thermometer has ranged below 20 degrees for nearly a week. The ice-gatherers are having all they want in that line, and most of the houses are filled with the most beautiful ice gotten here in many years.

BURRELL FORGEY CONVICTED. Murder in the First Degree-Penalty, Life Imprisonment.

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.) Henrisoros, W. Va., December 30.—The jury in the case of Burrell Forgey, under trial for the murder of Oscar Teek during an attempted train robbery at this piace on the morning of the 14th instant, returned a verdiet this morning of murder in the first degree, and fixing the penalty at life imprisonment.

There is general dissatisfaction, especially among railroad men, over the results of the trials. Public sentiment was largely in favor of hanging, and but for the belief that the trials would result in that there would probably have been a lynching bee.

A Life-Saving Crew Needed. A Life-saving Crew Needed.

A letter from Cobb's Island savs: The weather is extremely cold and disagreeable. The life-saving crews in this section are earning the increase in their wages. Had there been a station on Myrtle Island, as there should be by all means, those two men would not have been lost from the British schooner Magellan on the 20th of this month.

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.)

John Hipp, a noted desperado, was arrested a week ago, after a desperate fight with a sheriff's posse, in which fight Hipp was seriously wounded. Last Sunday Kelley was caught in Monroe county. The evidence against both was known to be conclusive, and as it was ascertained that these men had been guilty of several other murders they were lynched.

NEW SOUTHERN INDUSTRIES.

Whole Number Established in 1892-The Different Companies Formed.

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.) Chattanooga, Tenn., December 30.—The Tradesman has compiled reports of new industries established during the year 1892 in the States of Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, and West Virginia. The total number is 2,440, being 323 less than for 1891, 508 less than for 1890, and 41 less than for 1899.

The different companies formed during 1852 are as follows: Seventeen agricultural-implement works, 19 barrel-factories, 18 boot- and shoe-factories, 16 breweries, 66 brick- and tile-works, 67 canning-factories, 63 compresses and gins; CHATTANOOGA, TENN., December 30.-Th ning-factories, 63 compres 182 cotton-, woollen-, and 182 cotton-, woollen-, and knitting-mills, 57 land companies, 192 electric-light companies, 192 flour- and grist-mills, 117 foundries and machine-shops, 36 blast-furnaces, 63 ice-manufacturing companies, 189 quarrying and mining companies, 25 naturalgas and oil companies, 70 cottonseed-oil mills, 43 phosphate companies, 22 tanneries, 123 water-works companies; 625 wood-working establishments, and 320 miscellaneous industries.

The Tradesman savs that while it is probable that some of these factories will never be built—in fact, that a large proportion of them will not be—every one was portion of them will not be every one was organized, elected officers, etc., and it shows the drift of industrial endeavor in the southern States.

THE BOND-ISSUE TALE.

No Disagreement Between the President and Foster-No Gold Shortage,

Washington, December 30.—In regard to the story published in New York that Secretary Charles Foster, when in New York recently, submitted to the bankers a proposition to issue fifty or a hundred million dollars' worth of bonds, but was halted by a telegram from the President, it is authoritatively stated at the White House that "the President was not informed of the intention of the Secretary of the Treasury to visit New York, and has not communicated with him or heard from him in any way. Ho has not been unobservant of the financial situation and does not think the Treasury will find it necessary to adopt any new policies. He (By telegraph to the Dispatch.)

and does not think the Treasury will had it necessary to adopt any new policies. He has said several times publicly that he would maintain the parity of all our money issues, and that declaration stands. There is no disagreement between the President and the Secretary as to the management of the Treasury."

To this Assistant-Secretary Spalding adds: "We have sufficient gold for all practical purposes. There is no necessity for employing unusual methods to build up our gold holdings."

CRISP, CARLISLE, CLEVELAND. Ex-Mayor Grace, of New York, Also-Movement That May Talk.

[By telegraph to the Dispatch.] Washixgrox, December 30.—A telegram was received here to-day from Speaker Crisp saying that he would not return to Washington until to-morrow evening. Contemporaneously with this announce-Contemporaneously with this announcement it is ascertained that ex-Mayor Grace, of New York, arrived in Washington yesterday and dined with Senator Carlisle and that both left for New York last right. The stay in New York of the Speaker and the departure of Senator Carlisle for the same city have stirred up much speculation among the politicians in Washington.

Serious Prussian Strike.

Serious Prussian Strike.

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.)

Berrin, December 30.—Trouble caused by the strike of lead- and iron-miners at Saar Louis, in Rhenish Prussia, threatens to have serious results. The strike now extends through the whole district, and the men are displaying a very unruly disposition. To day a number of men who have refused to join the strikers were compelled to quit work by a number of strikers armed with revolvers, who threatened to shoot them if they did not at once quit the mines. The gendarmes have been called upon to preserve order, and further trouble is apprehended.

The Public Explosion.

[By Angio-American cable to the Dispatch.]

DURLIN, IRELAND, December 30.—The offices in Exchange Court, the scene of the explosion Saturday, have been found to be so badly damaged by the shock of the explosion that the buildings are not believed to be habitable. At midnight it was feared that the walls of the detective office would fall. The detectives who were asleep were awakened, and everybody left the building as quickly as possible.

Fire-Cost of Railways Per Mile. [Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.] RALEIGH, N. C., December 30.—The city of Wilmington has instituted legal pro-ceedings against the Wilmington and Weldon railway to secure back taxes to an amount said to be $200,000. It is thought there will be a compromise. This action of the city is based upon the recent decision of the United States Supreme Court in regard to this railway.

A MOTHER'S CARRLESSNESS.

Near Taylorsville, Alexander county, a negro woman named Roberts locked her three little children in her house and went away to a dance. The house caught on fire and two children were burned to death, only their bones being found. One child was rescued. Year after year fifty or sixty little negroes lose their lives in this horrible way, owing to their mothers' carelessness, yet there is no punishment for what is certainly criminal negligence.

LOSSES AND INSURANCE.

Statesville's second fire, on Wednesday, was even more destructive than the one early in the month. The value of the burned property was approximately $53,700. The insurance is $30,900, as far as can be learned. The old Carolina Hotel, occupied by eight business firms, was valued at $10,000, with $7,500 insurance. A fine building near by, occupied as a hardware-store, law-offices, and an armory, was valued at $6,000, with no insurance. It was in this building that the fire started. W. A. Thomas & Co., the hardware firm lost $10,000, with $7,500 insurance. The Opena-House, valued at $4,000, was insured for $2,000. Stocks from three stores were removed, though badly damaged. All the other firms save Thomas & Co., saved portions of their stocks. The burning of this block and the one which was consumed a fortnight ago makes an ugly gap in the pretty and prosperous town and temporarily injures business to a considerable extent.

Birding from the court-house steps. Last might late two strangers went to Jailer Bergainer's house, and, arousing him, told him they had a prisoner. He went with them to the jail, where he was met by a mob of 100 armed and masked men, who were hidden behind a fence with drawn pistols. They demanded the keys, which Bergainer surrendered.

The cells of John Hipp and Charles Kelley, the alleged murderers of Tax-Collector C. J. Armstrong, of Butler county, were then opened, and both men were taken out in their night-clothes and hurried to pray they were hanged to the court-house steps. The mob then quietly dispersed. The verdict of the Coroner's jury is that the men were hanged by unknown persons.

Armstrong, while collecting taxes, was murdered from ambush and robbed of $2.000 December 17th at Pauther-Creek bridge.

ONE WITNESS.

There is only one eye-witness to the shooting—a young man named Harris—who was in the office studying telegraphy under Mr. Lipsey. Harris stated yesterday that Kee put his hand behind him as if in the act of drawing a pistol. I learn to-day that Harris has made conflicting statements. The very best counsel has been employed to defend Lipsey. Captain R. B. Peebles, T. W. Minson, and Senator Ransom are all expected to appear for the accused. The deceased married a daughter of Dr. Person, of Greenesville county, Va.
